

Renovisions: floorcovering replacement service

Renovisions is an ingenious furniture-lifting service that enables you to replace your old office carpet with the minimum amount of upheaval from leading flooring contractors Rudge Brothers and James.

Key benefits

- Complete carpet replacement service
- No disruption or upheaval
- No downtime

It's sometimes easier to put off the decision to replace ageing, worn carpet simply because of the massive upheaval it would cause to staff and their work areas.

But with our Renovisions service, there's no disruption. This carpet replacement system, available from Rudge Brothers and James and carried out by professional contractors, is simplicity itself. It uses an ingenious jacking system that lifts up workstations, filing cabinets and other office fixtures on the spot so that the old carpet tiles can be removed and the new ones installed with no disruption.

There's no dismantling or disconnection, because entire workstations can just be raised up to permit replacement. So there's no risk of loss or damage from moving furniture, and no need for storage while the carpet is being replaced. Staff don't even have to clear the tops of their desks. Meanwhile, phones, computers and all other items of office equipment stay connected.

There's no downtime, because our technicians operate outside working hours, or even overnight, eliminating the substantial costs of employee downtime and loss of productivity. Your staff go home after work on an evening or weekend to find we've uplifted and removed your old carpets and installed the latest generation of modular carpet tiles in there place with no mess or disruption to your business.
