

Secretly lifting equipment, saving time and money

Flooring Contractor Rudge Brothers and James offer Milliken Carpet tile replacement with their furniture lifting process, Levitate®.

For a highly populated call centre space the advantages are evident. Levitate is an office lifting system which enables you to re-carpet occupied office areas without the need to remove any furniture with significant savings in time, cost and disruption.

Milliken products are available for dispatch within a maximum of 10 working days from order placement (up to 1,000m²) with a minimum order of 1 box through principal dealers Rudge Brothers and James.

Milliken products come with a 10 year wear guarantee and Milliken's own MilliGuard® Plus Soil Protection System.

Levitate is a series of custom designed mechanical tools which are placed underneath any type of office furniture to lift it smoothly and safely.

Levitate's "no jolt" screw system raises furniture off the ground in one smooth controlled motion. A traditional refit often requires the services of numerous teams of different contractors. With Rudge Brothers and James's Levitate system, the whole job is handled by a single professional team, providing a reliable and totally coordinated approach.

Cost Savings in Excess of 50%

Re-carpeting an office area typically entails complex organisation and a long list of cost considerations:

- specialist furniture dismantling
- removal teams
- telephone engineers
- computer technicians
- storage
- staff relocation

- downtime

All of these costs are eliminated with Levitate.

Minimal downtime

Downtime for many companies means lost business. With Levitate you can replace large areas of carpet overnight helping to keep downtime to an absolute minimum. Time-consuming disconnection of telephone lines and computer terminals is also eliminated.

No furniture damage

Unlike other office lifting systems Levitate's unique jack mechanism lifts your furniture in one smooth and controlled motion. This "no-jolt" system means that your office will be completely protected throughout the refit.

No staff disruption

Maintaining the confidence and support of staff is important during a refit. With Levitate there is no need for staff to waste time emptying and refilling desks and filing areas, as their workstations are kept completely intact and simply lifted.

A co-ordinated approach

A traditional refit often requires the services of numerous teams of different contractors. With RBJ's Levitate system, the whole job is handled by a single professional team, providing a reliable and totally co-ordinated approach.
